ARREST FOR RAPE

ED WARREN CHARGED WITH ASSAULT ON HIS OWN DAUGHTER.

TWO ATTEMPTS MADE

15-Year-Old Girl—One of Seven Children—Sought Refuge With Neighbors and Caused Arrest.

Ed Warren, a 41-year-old farmer living about six miles west of Quitman, was arrested Saturday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Evans, charged with an assault with intent to rape. The prosecuting witness is his daughter, Bertha Warren, who is 15 years old.

An assault was made, so the information claims, on the daughter a week before Christmas, and another on Thursday, May 4, when his wife and children were away from home. The latter time the children were at the barn, and on the screams of their sister hurried to the house. Warren, it is said, told her that if she said anything about it he would kill her. Last Thursday, the girl was run off the place, and stayed at the home of a neighbor.

The Warren family contains six other children. The case is a sensational one, and the penalty is a very severe one if convicted.

The case will come up at the June term of court. Warren, being unable to give bond, will be in the county jail until that time.

News of Society and Womens' Clubs

Estes-Yeomans Wedding.

Miss Dora Lee Estes and Deputy County Clerk Fred J. Yeomans of this city were united in marriage in St. Joseph Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. G. W. Bowmer. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Bolen, a former pastor of the M. E. church, South, of Maryville, now pastor of the Olive Street M. E. church, South, of St. Joseph. The only guests were two visitors of the bride, Mrs. N. F. Humber and Mrs. Bowmer, and Mr. Bowmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeomans returned to Maryville Sunday night and will be at home to their friends after June 1 at Mr. Yeomans' home, 397 East Dewey street.

Mrs. Yeomans resigned as business manager of the Maryville Tribune in March to accept a position as bookkeeper and cashier for the Springfield (Mo.) Republican. She expects to begin her duties as bookkeeper for The Democrat-Forum on Friday, May 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeomans' marriage just at this time came as quite a surprise to their friends, including The Democrat-Forum, as she was thought to be returning to Maryville for the sole purpose of taking up her work with The Democrat-Forum. But her marriage has not rendered her ineligible for service with us, and with all the many other friends we wish them unbounded happiness and prosperity.

The Tourists of the Twentieth Century club will entertain the Shakespearean division Friday evening at the home of Mrs. George P. Bellows. It will be the clubs' guest evening.

It has been decided that the prices will be 10 and 20 cents. Ten cents for general admission and 20 cents for reserved seats. A moving picture machine is being installed, and the latest and best pictures will be run in connection with the other features of the season.

Thirty-two companies are booked, offering a wide range of attraction, including repertoire, vaudeville and musical attractions. ## NORMAL WON GAME BY SCORE OF 5 TO 4

By raking in five runs to their opponents' four in Saturday's game, the Normal won their fourth consecutive game out of five played, and finished their season with a percentage of .800.

It was the best game the Normals have played on the home grounds, and as is usually the case with a good game, there was no crowd to see it.

The rain did not affect the diamond any, even though it did scare some of the fans away.

The score saw-sawed back and forth, tied several times, and the Normals went to their bats in the last half of the ninth with it standing 4 to 4.

Criss swatted the pill and tickled two sacks with his spikes. Perrin took Criss's place at second and ran for him. McKee rode and Perrin stole third. McKee trotted to second. W. Adams rolled the horsehide out toward third base and stuck on first while Perrin just missed safety in a long slide to the pan. Adams and McKee then pulled off a double steal. McKee scoring and copping the game.

In the seventh inning Amity brought out their derrier and dropped pitcher No. 2 into the box, for the Normals had begun to send the balls chasing after Halley's comet. Aside from this it was an evenly matched game all the way around. The score:

FIRE AT CONCEPTION

THREE BUSINESS HOUSES ON THE WEST SIDE BURNED.

EAST SIDE WAS DAMAGED

Contents of Postoffice Saved Except the Safe—Some Salvage from Other Stocks.

Fire which completely destroyed three buildings on the West side of Main street in Conception Junction, started Monday morning in the garret of the Mitchell restaurant, supposedly from a chimney. It was first noticed at 8 o'clock, and help was at once sent for to Clyde, they responding. The buildings totally destroyed were the postoffice building, the Schaffer's store and the Mitchell restaurant. The postoffice building is a cement one, while the other two are frame buildings.

Some buildings on the East side of the street were slightly damaged.

In the postoffice building everything was saved except the safe. From the other stores considerable of the stock was also saved.

The loss, it is thought, will reach $8,000, partly insured.

Telephone communications with the junction could not be had Monday noon on account of the wires being down.

TO PUT IN A CEMENT TROUGH ON EAST FIRST

Work was commenced Monday on a new cement watering trough on East First street, near the East End store. The work is being done by the city. This is one of the requirements made by Lewis M. Seaver, secretary of the National Humane Alliance before Maryville should have one of the beautiful drinking fountains that the National Alliance is putting in.

COMETS WON GAME AT UNION STAR SUNDAY

The Comets won an exhibition game Sunday afternoon at Union Star with that team by a score of 7 to 1. Burton and Secor were the pitchers for the Comets. Griffin and Cook made home runs, but on account of the ground rules they were allowed only two bases.

The Comets will play Union Star another game this, Monday, afternoon. The team will arrive home on the evening Wabash.

TO MOBERLY TO SEE WABASH OFFICIALS

Mayor Robey and City Attorney W. A. Blagg will leave Wednesday for Moberly to see the superintendent of the Wabash in regard to the building of the bridge on Mulberry street over the Wabash track. President Taylor expects to go to Moberly with the party to see about opening Storm avenue over the Wabash to the Normal grounds.

CITY COUNCIL TO MEET THIS EVENING

An adjourned session of the city council will be held this evening, when the annual levy will be made by the council, and the matter of hiring an expert to examine the City Water company will come up. Another matter will be the ordinance calling a special election. Mayor Robey has received many letters from expert engineers, and he will present the correspondence to the council this evening for their consideration.

THE CLASS SERMON

TO GRADUATING CLASS OF THE CONSERVATORY OF MUSIC.

SERMON BY DR. BRICKER

Exercises Held in the Christian Church Sunday Evening and Were Largely Attended.

The baccalaureate services for the Maryville Conservatory held at the First Christian church Sunday night were beautifully appropriate. The singing by the large choir, made up of singers from all the churches, was splendid, the two anthems, "Hark! Hark! My Soul" and "The Heavens are Telling," making most inspiring opening and closing numbers.

The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, the congregations of the First Methodist and Baptist churches uniting in the services. Just as the opening hymn was being sung by the congregation the lights went out and all were in darkness for about fifteen minutes. During that time, however, Rev. Lee Harrell of the First Baptist led the prayer, and under the leadership of Director H. J. Becker and his choir the congregation sang old familiar songs and the time passed pleasantly and quickly, because everyone sang and helped to make the best of the situation. The old songs sounded good and the "Glory Song" was fine. As the last song, "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," was sung the lights came back and the service proceeded without further interruption.

Rev. Lee Harrell read the Scripture lesson and Rev. L. O. Bricker of the First Christian church preached the sermon, on the subject, "Across the Continent of the Years." Text Psalm 71:16: "I will go in the strength of the Lord." He said in part:

This is one of the longest texts in the Bible. In its application it covers an indefinite time. The way to write this text is to put a few asterisks after the first three words, "I will go." Asterisks are used in books to signify a lapse of time. They denote a space of time, it may be days or years, intervenes between the story that stands before, and the story that follows after them. So I say we need asterisks in this text. There is some times a long stretch of years between "I will go," and "in the strength of the Lord." There is often a lapse of time ere the first and the last words of this text meet—"I" and "the Lord."

Divinity is not always the first resource of humanity. It is often the last resource. Men do not learn all at once to take God into their reckonings when they make their plans and forecast their endeavors. Some never learn that. And those who never learn this are the failures, the real and final failures. And the day comes when they know this is so. "I will go." This is all of the text we use when we are young. We cut it in two, and put a period after the words, go. "I-will-go." Do not talk to me about strength for the going, am I not strong? Can I not stand this journey of life? I feel able to go anywhere, climb any height, descend into any valley, cross any plain. I am not troubled about my ability to face the road. I will go—I must go. There are a thousand voices calling me in the world of men and things. There are so many things I want to see, I will go and gain them. There are so many things I want to enjoy and possess. I will go and get what I want. Oh, the wild, strong will of youth. Oh, the omnipotence of these early determinations; the finality of these early decisions. "I will go in mine own strength, it will never fail me." So we say in the morning of life, when the dew is on the grass. But, oh, how hot and long and dusty the road seems after awhile; how tired the feet; how far away the blue mountains ever are, and the load seems heavier, and the pilgrims' strength less every day. And the days comes when we can go no farther. All the strength of self-confidence, hope and enthusiasm are all expended.

It is now either divinity or despair, God or nothing. Life must become either a tragic failure or a triumph of faith. Sometime and somewhere, we all have to learn the limits of our own strength and powers. Oh, young friend, with all your life before you, listen while I tell you a truth of God: Nobody can make all the journey of life alone. Nobody ever did, and nobody ever can. Nobody was ever strong enough, or wise enough to set out alone and arrive at life's crowning end. Some day you will know this for a fact. And there are two ways of learning it; one way is by faith and the other by experience.

But suppose, instead of thinking about the way, we begin to think about the end of the way. Instead of thinking of the difficulty of life, we think of the destiny of life. "I will go in mine own strength." Yes, but where will you go? What is to be your destination? You may have the health and skill to work; the brain to think; the heart to make; many friends, and if the end of life were nothing more than to become a skilled workman, a clever student, or a social success—why, you might easily do that on your own strength. But I would remind you that you are here in the world on a bigger business than that. You are here to develop a character, to grow a soul, to make a saint; to find some of the meaning of the immortal truth, the great duties, the sublime sacrifices which we all meet on the way, and the which, when we meet them, teach us at once our insufficiency for life as it was meant to be lived. You may say "I will go," if you are only going to the market place to make the best of a few bargains, or to the social circle to get the good word of a few friends. But that is not life. That is missing the way, and anybody can do that. Beware of finding too easy an interpretation of life and its great words. If you study the Greek manuscripts from which we get our new testament, you will often find two different renderings of the same text. Now whenever this happens, the student must remember this law of criticism: "The more difficult reading is to be preferred."

So it is with life. It is the hard reading which is the true one. This is the way our Master said we should interpret life. Whenever in your chart of life, you come upon the word "ease," strike it out and write "discipline." For pleasure write duty. For man's desire, write God's commandment for self interest, self sacrifice. Hard? Yes, but they are the true and deeper reading of life's great words.

You can never be absolutely sure that you have found the essential truth of a thing until you have gone to the bottom of that thing.

Now, I would bid you look at life as God shows it to you. Look at the things which give meaning and value and immortality of life. People say to youth sometimes, "The world is at your feet." That is not true unless heaven is in your heart. Look out beyond brief ambitions, the trivial honors, the cheap victories, the spurious gains of earth, and behold—oh, so far beyond them all, the stainless light shining from the towers and pinnacles of the city of God. And know, that if ever you are to come to the gates of that city, it must be by winning a victory, compared with which every temporal achievement is but child's play. For the everlasting shelter and reward of that city are not for them whose hands are full, but for them whose hands are clean; not for them who have won honors but for them who have learned humility; not for the clever, but for the faithful; not for them who have won the world for a prize, but for them who have overcome the world by the grace and power of Christ.

TO OPEN THURSDAY

MINK LEAGUE TO START SECOND SEASON ON THAT DAY.

COMETS AT FALLS CITY

Maryville to Open Season at Home on May 25 With Auburn—To Have a Big Opening at Falls City.

Thursday will see the opening of the second season of the Mink league. Clarinda, Falls City and Nebraska City will get these openings, and on Monday, May 22, Auburn will get its opening at home, playing Shenandoah, and will also dedicate its new ball park. On Thursday, May 25, Maryville and Shenandoah will have their opening at home, Maryville playing Auburn and Shenandoah playing Falls City.

All six towns have arranged for big doings, and in all the season looks like a good one for the Minks. Thursday Falls City will have the honor of raising the first Mink league pennant, and is planning a big street parade of both ball teams, the Maryville club being its opponent. President Fred Carey of the league will take part in the ceremonies.

At Clarinda a big day is planned also, a parade of both clubs, Shenandoah being the opponents.

At Nebraska City there is to be a like demonstration. The business men have consented to close their doors in the afternoon during the game, and if the weather is good a record breaking crowd is expected. Auburn will be Nebraska City's opponent.

Auburn will start off with the following lineup for the season, according to the last report from Manager Cummings. "Old Reliable" Ewiler, first base; Captain Kraninger, on second base; Less Bright, third base; Butch Free, short; Ed Bright, left field; Dygert, center field; Pringley, right field; Mercer and Kraninger, catchers; Hirsh, Zonderman, Kirkland, Johnson, Kratzberg and Brodbeck, pitchers.

Manager Nee has a good lineup for Nebraska City. He has had about thirty-five men training out for positions, and it seems as though he has been looking for the raw material.

Falls City has retained Third Baseman McNeil, who was there the last part of last season, and also their little utility man, McCabe, who can be used in any position. He is a good pitcher, can catch a good game, is a fast infielder and can work in any of the outfield.

President Fred Carey says that he will instruct his umpires to see that the rules are strictly interpreted and rowdy conduct of any description on the part of ball players will be taboed, as there was nothing of that carried on last season under President Wilson, and he intends to keep the league just as clean as it was last season. Carey has not as yet been able to say who he has appointed on his staff of umpires outside of Harry Sage, who was the chief of the staff last season. He was appointed about a month ago. This season he will handle the staff himself, he is taking his time about his selections and is going to try and give the Mink league his best judgment.

The Weather

Unsettled weather, with probably showers tonight or Tuesday.

The beginning of eye troubles

Usually come very gradually. Often for years there are indications that the sight is failing. It's a great mistake not to heed these first signs. Those who get glasses at the first indication of something wrong miss a lot of suffering. But no matter in what shape your eyes are in, there is always relief at our optical department.

SERMON ON "OUR MOTHERS" DELIVERED BY DR. J. S. FORD

DR. J. S. FORD,
Pastor of the First M. E. Church of this city.

Dr. J. S. Ford, pastor of the First M. E. church of this city, delivered an excellent sermon Sunday morning on "Our Mothers." The following is the stenographer's report of what Dr. Ford said:

"Behold thy mother." Let it be understood between preacher and people now that this sermon is not to be one of mere sentiment; it is not to be distinctly an eulogy, though it might very appropriately be that. Some of us, I suppose, would hardly dare to trust ourselves to say very much about she who hovered over us in our infancy, whose influence has been a charm for our life, and whose life was so woven into ours that, though she has been gone from us many years, she seems always near. And sometimes in our dreams we have put our arms about her neck again and kissed her cheeks, o'er and o'er. Not an eulogy, not sentiment this morning, and yet we would pay a tribute of respect to those of our mothers who are here, and to those who are gone. I know that when we stop to think of those who are gone, and more particularly to speak of them, that the very depths of our being are stirred, and sometimes it is not surprising that the tears flow freely. The white flower we wear this morning is but the emblem of the white life that she lives. And we would say with George Cooper—

"Hundreds of stars in the pretty sky;
Hundreds of shells on the shore together;
Hundreds of birds that go singing by;
Hundreds of bees in sunny weather;
Hundreds of dew drops to greet the dawn;
Hundreds of lambs in the purple clover;
Hundreds of butterflies on the lawn;
But only one mother the wide world over."

Quality More to Be Desired Than Quantity.

But I would turn your thoughts this morning more specifically to the mother whom you love, whether here or yonder, than to the honor, dignity, glory and the responsibility of motherhood. I would have you see a little more clearly this morning, if possible, that motherhood means everything to this world, and that we can afford to put great emphasis upon it. That we shall recognize the fact that motherhood is something of such tremendous dignity and responsibility, and such honor and glory, that it is not every one who is competent of undertaking this great mission. That while the doctrines which have been so strenuously and persistently emphasized by one whom many consider to be the greatest living man, when properly understood and interpreted is a most wholesome doctrine, yet when misapplied and misinterpreted it is a doctrine that is wrought with tremendous danger. When so interpreted as to lead us to believe that the chief mission of womanhood, regardless of physical, mental or moral or social life, is motherhood, then I say it becomes a doctrine that is dangerous to society. Now, we have been told, over and over, that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. I want you to think a little of that this morning. But I want to lay down first this proposition: That in the bringing of children into this world, and in the training of manhood and womanhood, quality is more desirable than quantity. I want to illustrate this if possible.

Some one has figured out that this continent upon which we live is capable of supplying food enough to take care of one billion, five hundred million people. That is to say, that this American continent, if properly developed, is capable of producing enough products to care for all the people that are in the world. Now, let us look at these people a moment. Asia and Oceania contain over half of the people in this world. I say again that Asia and Oceania, taking in the islands that properly belong to Asia, contains over half of the people on this globe, 900,000,000 of them. Europe has 400,000,000, Africa 240,000,000, North and South America 150,000,000. This makes in round numbers a little over one and one-half billion, taking in all the people of the world.

Now, then, to be very fair in our statement and very conservative, let us suppose that the United States alone, which contains practically two-thirds of all the people in the western hemisphere, let us say that the United States alone is capable of taking care of 500,000,000 people, or one-third of all the people of the world. Asia has 60 per cent of all the people in the world, and we will go to Asia and Oceania and take out 60 per cent of the people there. We have over 400,000,000. We will go to Asia and take 60 per cent of the people there, and this would mean that we would bring out of Asia about 250,000,000 people. To make up the 400,000,000 we will go to Europe, which has 25 per cent of all the people of the world, and we will take out 25 per cent of these people out of Europe. We will take out of Africa 15 per cent, which is her proportion. We would draw 400,000,000 people into this country.

Here is our own great state of Missouri, with an area of about 70,000 square miles. Now under the new adjustment we must have an average in this state of 140 to the square mile. Missouri now has in round numbers 3,000,000. Then we want to get 10,000,000 into Missouri, and we would have to bring in 7,000,000. Where will we get them? Sixty per cent of these 7,000,000 people have come from Asia and Oceania. We will take from them, then, 4,200,000 to make up this 7,000,000 that we bring here. Let us look at them. They come from China, Japan, India, Arabia, Persia, and a whole lot of other countries. Four million two hundred thousand of these people. Now, we will go to Europe and take 25 per cent of the 7,000,000 and we have 1,750,000, and where do they come from? Russia, Austria, Germany, France, Norway and Sweden—and we bring them all here. Then we go down to Africa, among the dark men and women, and bring 1,050,000 from there.

I am trying to show to you that quality is more desirable to this government than quantity. I want to know what would happen to Missouri in the next ten years if we brought all of these people over here. What would become of our Christian Sabbath? God knows it is bad enough now. What will it do with these polyglot peoples here, and so many of them. O what would become of our educational institutions, our public schools; what would become of our churches? What would become of the high moral ideals of the people? What would become of them? O we are making tremendous strides in temperance questions. But I want to say to you that if we had that kind of people in this country, in this state, we had just as well give up our temperance fight. Why? Because we would bring the average level of our people down so low as we mix up these people of every nation, every race, every religion, and every heathen superstition, that it would be impossible for our people to have a high moral ideal. O thank God that we are able to do something because of the quality of the men and the women that we have. We are able to do something this morning, because of the quality of the motherhood of our government. That is why. Oh, mothers, your home today is the very picture of the pure life that you have led. And so I say, mothers of this community, thy name today is purity. Oh, mother, thy name is sympathy; thy name is tenderness; thy name is love; thy name is not Mary, because thou art the mother of Jesus, but thou art the mother of the representatives of Jesus, because thou art what thou art. You have shaped your home and brought our people up to a high level, and so I say in the bringing of men and women into this life it is more essential that we shall study quality rather than quantity.

The Hand That Rocks the Cradle.

I am going to say something else. That just so long as the chief qualification in this country for marriage is age, just so long will we find the vicious element in this country. Now, I am not in favor of girls getting married at 15 or 16 years of age, but I would a thousand times rather that the average girl would be married at this age, than that some girls should be permitted to marry at all, because they are wholly degenerate and wholly incompetent for motherhood and unfit to build up the citizenship of our country. There are a whole lot of girls that should never marry at all, and there are a whole lot of young men that should not, under any consideration, be permitted to marry, and it would be better for them to be put in a cell and kept there forever than to be permitted to go into some home and bring some girl down to hell. What we want in this country is young men and young women who are able physically, mentally and morally, to take charge of a home. And because we have so many of them we have so many beautiful homes today.

Now, I said that it is very often said that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world. It is but another way of saying that the quality of motherhood determines the destiny of a nation. And so it does. Dr. Hillis said that this government is ruled by 15,000,000 voters. He classifies them as follows: Three million of them in the United States can neither read nor write. Think of it. Three million of them can read a little, but cannot write at all. Three million are intelligent, industrious, moral Republican voters. Three million are moral, intelligent, upright, well deserving men, who vote the Democratic ticket. Three million are industrious and intelligent, but dishonest. There you have them. And he says that this 3,000,000 people who are dishonest too often control the election. If it is to their interest to go into the saloon they will go there, and if it is to their interest to do anything else they are ready to do it. They are dangerous because of their methods, and how easy it is for them to control many of the 3,000,000 of ignorant men who can neither read nor write. What kind of motherhood can we expect from these men who cannot read or write? Here is a question that is worthy of some consideration, and I want to say that just in proportion as we can bring up the quality of motherhood will we build up and help to solve every social and every moral question of the day.

The Debt of the Church and of the Government to Motherhood.

What a debt we owe to motherhood. And the same might be said of the nation. Oh, Church of the Living God, what a debt you owe to motherhood. Jesus recognized it even in the last moments of His life, when He looked upon the crowd and placed the crown upon His mother's brow and said: "Here is the mother of the church of God. Son, disciple, follower, honor thy mother."

If we would go back in history this morning how motherhood would loom up. Let us look at Augustine. What a man he was. How he shaped the theology of the church for centuries, yet what would he have been if it had not been for his mother, Monica, who through his early life stood by him with her holy influence. And Chrysostom, that great orator, who so marvelously stirred the church, and who would he have been had it not been for her, that pure minded woman that was called the "golden mouth," what stood over him constantly, cheering him, inspiring him and helping him to the larger life? We rejoice in the work of John Wesley, but we never think of her who helped him through his struggles. Then we might speak of McKinley, Garfield and Lincoln, who said, "All I am or I hope to be I owe to my angel mother." Oh, church of God, arise this morning and salute the mother that has given us such a large heritage. Oh, nation, our nation, loving the flag for which it stands, arise and salute your mother, who has been the greatest factor in making that flag what it is.

To the Aged Mothers and Fathers.

As I stand in your presence I look into the faces of some whose race is almost run. You are not young and strong as you once were. You walk about sometimes in your feebleness and say the race is almost run. Oh, I am not surprised that sometimes you talk of other days, the days of your childhood. I am not surprised that sometimes you lie down in weariness and toss upon your bed, because you are so tired, that in your dreams you see her again and say, "Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep." Oh, brothers, sisters, go back to your childhood in your dreams. Let her who walked with you in other days walk with you again. I would not be surprised that some day, it may be before another Mother's Day, I would not be surprised if some day you should lie down, and when the pallor comes to your cheek and anxious friends stand round your bed, that they should hear you say:

Idle Capital is an Extravagance

no community can afford, to do anyone a benefit it must be kept moving and to do the most good it should seek legitimate channels. Then let us divorce ourselves from the prevailing "get rich quick" fever and get back to the good ways of our fore-fathers. Put your money into something at home, where it will HELP YOUR HOME TOWN and enhance the other interests you may have. Why not build a home? There's no satisfaction like that borne of the knowledge you own a home. Start it today and tomorrow you'll awaken with a feeling of independence like that of 1776. Of course you'll need lumber, but we can quickly help you out, as our stock is complete and most orders can be filled the day we get them.

OLD-TIME REMEDY DARKENS THE HAIR

Gives Color, Lustre to Faded and Gray Hair—Dandruff Quickly Removed.

From time immemorial, sage and sulphur have been used for the hair and scalp. Almost everyone knows of the value of such a combination for darkening the hair, for curing dandruff and falling hair, and for making the hair grow.

In olden times the only way to get a hair tonic of this sort was to brew it in the home fireplace, a method which was troublesome and not always satisfactory. Nowadays almost every up-to-date druggist can supply his patrons with a ready-to-use product, skillfully compounded in perfectly equipped laboratories. The Wyeth Chemical Company of New York put up an ideal remedy of this sort, called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, and authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

A CORROBORATION.

Of Interest to Maryville Readers.

For months Maryville citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills, by residents of this locality.

Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable?

Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement?

No stronger proof of merit can be had than cures that have stood the test of time.

The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Maryville reader.

G. S. Kemp, R. F. D. No. 1, King City, Gentry county, Mo., says: "I give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement and I willingly confirm the statement I made in their favor some years ago. This remedy has been of great benefit to me and I advise other kidney sufferers to give it a trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Sample Helps Frail Women

So many women are dragging out weary lives just because their digestive organs are weak. The result is poor circulation, nervousness and the verge of invalidism. It is often very unnecessary and the woman's own fault.

The first thing to do is to look to the welfare of your bowels. There the trouble usually lies. All physicians know that a large percentage of women are habitually constipated, and from this results indigestion, piles, weariness, etc. But there is no use taking "female remedies" and things of that kind until you have started your bowels moving. You will find that when the bowels move regularly once or twice a day all your petty ills will disappear. Take a good, mild laxative tonic like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for awhile and you will find yourself rapidly getting better and stronger, your bowels will regulate themselves and work at stated times, and then your headaches and dizziness will disappear. Don't take strong cathartic pills or salts, but just such a mild and pleasant-tasting remedy as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

You can obtain a bottle of your druggist for fifty cents or one dollar, and either size may be enough to permanently cure you. Thousands of women keep it regularly in the house and will never be without it, as it cures them and can be used with safety by every member of the family, down to the youngest child, but if you have never used it take the advice of Mrs. Earl S. Cox, 409 Twenty-fifth street, Moline, Ill., and Mrs. Ellen Dunigan, Muncie, Ind., and send to Dr. Caldwell for a free trial bottle, as they did, and learn for yourself what it will do in your own case. That it will cure you, as it did them, there is no doubt.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For further request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 8.593 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

REBELS UNITED BY MADERO

Puts Down Rebellion Among Insurrecto Force at Juarez.

NAVARRO FLEES TO EL PASO.

Threats Against His Life Made Federal General Hasten to American Soil—in a Motor Car Madero Assists the Prisoner to Escape.

Juarez, Mex., May 15.—Peace negotiations, unofficial, but auspicious, have been resumed between the federal government and the insurgents and the prospects are that a definite understanding would be reached within twenty-four hours.

Juarez, Mex., May 15.—The supreme test, the clash between the military and political authorities, was experienced by the provisional government of Mexico and Francisco I. Madero, Jr., the provisional president, is complete master of the situation.

After a series of thrilling incidents, during which the lives of Madero and his chiefs were in danger, General Pascual Orozco in a moment of passion ordered the arrest of the little rebel leader and demanded the resignation of the provisional cabinet, the capital of the provisional government is quiet. General Navarro, the defeated federal commander, whose life was threatened by angry mobs of insurgents, was spirited away by Madero, himself, to the American side of the Rio Grande and today is at the home of friends in El Paso.

A Plot to Foster Anarchy.

A plot, quiet, deeply laid, is suspected by the rebel leaders as the cause of the near-riot in front of the Madero headquarters and some of the Maderists believe it was a scheme on the part of those who are trying to break up the organization of the revolution to foster the opinion throughout Mexico that the movement is one of anarchy. Madero in a statement charged that General Orozco's actions were incited "by persons interested in bringing about disunion among us."

General Orozco called on Provisional President Madero and the two men talked alone for some time. Suddenly their voices were raised and the other political chiefs rushed into the room only to find themselves held back by some of Orozco's men. A throng of soldiers had gathered outside the building and Senor Madero determined to appeal to them. Revolvers had been drawn and rifles were seized, but Madero stood bravely before the crowd and slapping his breast, shouted, "Shoot me, shoot me, if you dare."

Madero Won Them Over.

General Orozco was at his side. His men ostensibly had been summoned to take part in the coup d'etat, but as Madero stepped forth among them and talked in his calm, reassuring way, the affection which has been ripening among his men since the revolution crystallized in a mighty shout, "Viva Madero."

There are all sorts of stories in regard to the clash, but at the bottom it was apparent that dissension among the military chiefs was the basic cause of the disturbance. Colonel Villa was said to have insisted on General Navarro's life, while General Orozco also was said to have been displeased with the naming of a civilian as minister of war. Today all is harmony, Madero has impressed upon Orozco that the choosing of a cabinet and the management of a government is quite outside the function of the military.

Apprehension for the safety of General Navarro stirred the sympathy of General Madero after the incident at the municipal building and he was determined at the risk of his own life, to save the federal commander. He rode quickly in a motor car to where General Navarro has been staying since he was captured and after a brief explanation conveyed General Navarro to the river front, where Navarro waded the river and soon was safe on the American territory. American troops were ready to protect him if necessary, but the insurgents were completely ignorant of Madero's move till it was accomplished.

MEXICO CITY FEARS ATTACK

Information Rebels are About to Make Move on Capital.

Mexico City, May 15.—With a large part of the capital's garrison patrolling the outskirts of the city to ward off possible attack by rebels, and the remainder ready to assist the police in quelling a riot in the downtown district, residents here had their thrills of the revolution.

Acting on information that the revolutionists were planning an attack on the suburbs, presumably Tlalpam or San Angel, and that the long-talked-of students' demonstration was to occur, every precautionary measure was taken. Not only were troops detailed to watch the suburban district, but an order was issued by the police department for all saloons to close at 2 o'clock.

The attack of the rebels did not take place and the students' demonstration was postponed.

The rebels are encamped near Ajusco mountain and the students will not admit they are contemplating a demonstration. Nevertheless, the government will not relax its diligence.

DELIVERED SERMON ON "OUR MOTHERS"

"Turn backward, O time in your flight.

Make me a child again, just for tonight; Mother, come back from that echoless shore

Take me again to your heart as of yore.

Kiss from my forehead the furrows of care,

Smooth the few silver threads out of my hair,

Over my slumbers your loving watch keep,

Rock me to sleep, mother, rock me to sleep."

Who knows but the good Father in heaven, as He looks on, will commission your mother to fly from her celestial world, and sit by your side and sing her lullaby, and then take her child in her arms, and turn back through the pearly gates, to the throne of God, and introduce you to her Christ and yours, and to heaven, Amen.

Let us pray:

"Oh Christ, as we wait a moment in Thy presence, we wish to see Thy face. Reveal Thyself to us with all thy tender love. Thou hast been the Christ of the mother who gave us life, and watched over us, and sacrificed for us. Oh Christ, may we see Thee, even as our mothers have seen thee, and then after while, in Thine own good time, after while, some day, possibly tomorrow, it may be after a few years, but some day, Oh Christ, some day, may we see Thee, and see her, and be with Thee and her forever, Amen.

Orear-Henry Drug Co. Sells Remarkable Catarrh Cure.

Pour a few drops of HYOMEI (pronounced High-o-me) into the hard rubber inhaler and you can then breathe into the lungs the very same antiseptic, germ killing air as you would breathe in the Australian forests of eucalyptus, where catarrh is unknown.

And HYOMEI is so pleasant to use; you'll like to use it; when you breathe it the effect on the inflamed catarrh infested and germ ridden membrane is soothing and healing.

In five minutes you get such wonderful relief that you will know that at last you have a cure for catarrh.

A HYOMEI outfit which consists of one bottle of HYOMEI, a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a medicine dropper and simple instructions for use, costs only $1.00, and extra bottles of HYOMEI, if afterward needed, cost only 50 cents.

And besides catarrh, remember that HYOMEI is guaranteed to cure asthma, croup, bronchitis, coughs, colds, sore throat, or money back. HYOMEI is sold by leading druggists everywhere, and by a Trial sample free from Orear-Henry Drug Co.

RECIPROCITY MAY PULL THROUGH

Bill Stands Good Show of Passing in Senate.

POLL OF MEMBERS IS MADE.

Forty-Seven Said to Favor and Forty-Two Against Measure—Strong Demand for Action on Statehood for Arizona and New Mexico.

Washington, May 15.—With the prospect for a session of congress of indefinite length in sight and hot weather already here, members of both branches are trying to find ways and means to break with the greatest possible ease the deadlock between the house and senate, which they fear will characterize the end of any session in which one house is controlled by the Republicans and the other by the Democrats. With this situation in view the Democratic leaders in the house have already framed tentative terms upon which they will accept a recess or adjournment of this session before all the work done in the house is passed upon by the senate.

House leaders say they will not permit this congress to take a recess or adjourn until the senate officially notifies it that it will not consider such legislation as may be left over at that time, all of which must be specifically named.

It is virtually assumed that this session of congress will not be wholly devoid of results. The senate will pass within a reasonable time the resolution carrying a constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of senators. There will certainly be a vote in the senate on the reciprocity bill, with the chances in favor of its passage.

Recent polls of the senate place the number of senators favorable to reciprocity at forty-seven to forty-two against. The Republicans for the bill are said to be Brown, Burton, Crane, Callom, Kenyon, Lodge, Lorimer, Penrose, Poindexter, Root and Works.

The Democrats said to be against it are Bailey, Simmons and Foster, with chamberlain uncertain.

A bitter fight is being made on the bill from many sources and some votes may yet be changed.

Demand for Action on Statehood.

There is a strong demand for action on the statehood bills for Arizona and New Mexico and both Republicans and Democrats are working hard to find a solution of the difficulties raised by objections to the Arizona constitution, which calls for the recall of judges. The house will act on this measure beyond question and the progressive Democrats and Republicans in the senate will line up behind the bill when it reaches the senate. Whether any other legislation will be acted upon at this session by the senate is questionable, except as to the apportionment bill passed by the house recently.

Another item which is of country-wide importance and which relates to the senate alone is the Lorimer case. It is still uncertain at this time whether the senate will order a reinvestigation of the election of the Illinois senator. Those senators who genuinely regard the honor of the senate are determined that this time there shall be no half-hearted investigation of the election of the Illinois senator and that there shall come out of any other inquiry some well defined rules relating to future elections of senators by corrupt practices.

WEAR FLOWER FOR MOTHER

In Many Lands Day Is Observed in Her Honor.

New York, May 15.—As the result of work of little more than two years by the National Congress of Mothers, three was celebrated from France to the Fiji island, "Mother's Day," devoted to tributes to the worth and work of the mothers of the world.

The celebration this year was more widespread than ever before, the governors of nearly all the states having issued proclamations calling for the observance of the day.

FIND GOLD AT FULTON, MO.

Well Diggers Said to Have Struck Ore Assaying $8 a Ton.

Fulton, Mo., May 15.—Well diggers at work on the farm of H. Bybee and his son, four and one-half miles south of Fulton, struck a vein of gold ore at a depth of eighty feet. A geologist in this city announces that the ore assays $8 to the ton. The well diggers were headed by John Fowler, for more than twenty years a prospector in the western gold fields.

Lid Goes On at Platte, S. D.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 15.—The recent arrest at Platte of two professional gamblers on the charge that they had fleeced a Platte man out of $113 in a poker game has terminated in the "lid" being placed tightly on gambling and all other games of chance at that place.
